Landon Relaxes On Ranch Today

Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 13 (AP).—Gov. Alf M. Landon, determined to be in tip-top condition for his first presidential campaign tour starting in a week, relaxed today and romped with his children at a Colorado Rocky Mountain ranch.

The Republican nominee, planned to do some fishing and horseback riding after "resting a day or two."

The youngsters, four-year-old Nancy Jo and two-year-old John Cobb, ran ahead of their mother to meet the Kansas governor when his car drove up yesterday. It was the first time they had seen him since early in July, when he returned to Topeka from a ten-day vacation at the ranch.

The governor's immediate desire was to rid himself of a slight cold he contracted last week. He described himself as "feeling much better."

Reluctantly leaving a blazing fireplace, the governor retired early last night—under blankets, for the weather was cool.

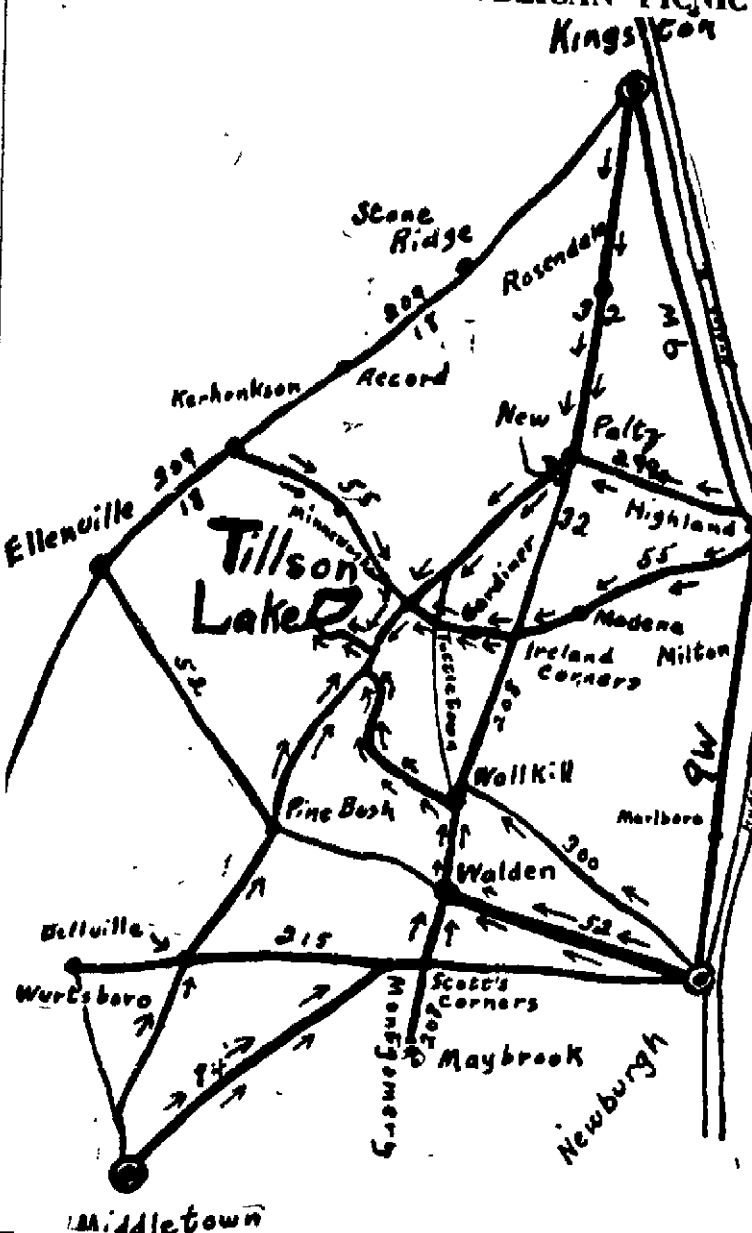

Before starting his campaign expedition into Pennsylvania and New York August 20, the candidate expected to complete his three speeches. The nominee said no visitors were listed for today.

Held for Intoxication

John Novak, 61, who gave no home address, was arrested Wednesday by Trooper Senecal at Port Ewen, on a charge of public intoxication. He was held at the Ulster county jail pending a hearing before Justice Benjamin H. Sleight of Port Ewen.

Started in 1915, the British Industries Fair is generally considered the world's largest national trade fair and it attended annually by buyers from all parts of the world.

HOW TO GET TO REPUBLICAN PICNIC

Flames Roaring Through Western Forests Unchecked

St. Paul, Aug. 13 (AP).—Towering flames spread swiftly through a northern wilderness today despite the efforts of 25,000 grimy men who labored under increasing hazards.

Official pessimism grew. Adverse winds and low humidity handicapped the fire fighting forces. But they struggled to stem the fiery onslaughts as Minnesota State Forester Grover Conset warned:

"Anything may happen."

Hundreds of men were picked up on the streets of International Falls, Minn., and enlisted along adjacent highways. They joined 1,000 others striving to head off an uncontrolled blaze on the International boundary north of Kabetogama Lake which broadened after blackening 6,000 acres.

Trucks rushed CCC reinforcements and 8,000 feet of hose to the Tom Lake front in the Grand Portage State Forest in northeastern Minnesota. The crest fire there remained unchecked after charring 6,000 acres of virgin timber.

Some 1,000 men failed to check flames creeping over new wood land in the Markham section of Minnesota. It flared anew after leveling 22 farm homes over the weekend. Residents of Bassett, Tolmi and Fairbanks watched the conflagration anxiously.

Emergency Firebreaks.

Hundreds of men cut emergency firebreaks near Sandstone, Minn., in the path of a new fire. Another major blaze roared near Pequot Lake, 25 miles south of Duluth. In the Moose Bay-Basswood Falls region a dozen others burned.

Conset termed the situation the worst in the state's history.

In Wisconsin the menace centered in the Bennett and Pattison Park districts. Twelve families evacuated Bennett. The village of Hawthorne was endangered.

Three blazes on Isle Royale in Lake Superior left more than 27,000 acres in ashes.

A heavy fall of smoke hovered over the fire zones and extended as far south as the Twin Cities.

Forestry officials directed thousands of men in other sections of the north woods in a vigilant effort to guard against new outbreaks.

R. W. Straus G.O.P. Eastern Manager

New York, Aug. 12 (AP).—Representatives Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Republican eastern campaign manager, announced the appointment today of Roger W. Straus as his special assistant.

Straus is a prominent New York city Jewish leader and is vice-president of the American Smelting and Refining Co. He is a co-chairman with Newton D. Baker of the national conference of Jews and Christians.

Straus, referring to reports, which have been denied previously by National Chairman John M. Hamilton, that Hamilton was anti-Semitic, said:

"There has been a lot of talk about it but frankly I have never paid any attention to such reports. I firmly believe that both President Roosevelt and Gov. Landon place their faith in the traditional principle of religious freedom. As far as I am concerned anti-Semitism is not an issue in any way in this campaign."

Straus, who received the American Hebrew medal for his work in the inter-faith movement, said Gov. Landon "Appeals to the east because of his liberal thoughts and policies."

While Straus will assist Martin in his general capacity, he will give special attention to the organization of business leaders.

Hamilton Talks With Hoover Today

San Francisco, Aug. 13 (AP).—A conference with former President Herbert Hoover was on the schedule of John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, today.

Hamilton planned to discuss with Mr. Hoover the general political situation, with special attention to the California outlook. The former president, Republican leaders said, accepted an invitation to a mass meeting here tonight, and probably will introduce Hamilton, who will give the principal address.

The national chairman told a Sacramento meeting last night the retirement of James A. Farley as postmaster general and his subsequent absence from Washington "has removed from that city the political censor of government reports."

"Doubtless," he added, "it is a mistake that some of the real facts are beginning to slip out now."

To Combine Two Games of Ball to Decide the Winner

Something unusual in baseball will be staged next Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Athletic Field when the Chevrolet, winners of the city soft ball league, and the Knickerbocker, winners of the first half of the City Baseball League, will clash in a combined game of soft and hard baseball.

For the first five innings regular baseball will be played by the two contending teams, and the remaining innings will be played as a soft ball game.

There has been considerable talk among the members of both teams, each team claiming that their particular game is harder to play. It is expected that the game Monday night may definitely settle that question.

Community Dance Bows to Firemen

Owing to the firemen's convention there will be no community dance at the Municipal Auditorium Monday night. The next dance will be held Monday night, August 24.

The firemen have arranged for a big convention dance to be held at the Auditorium Tuesday night, August 18. Paul Zucca and his ten-piece band will furnish music for dancing from nine to one. The committee has also arranged to present several acts of vaudeville, direct from New York, during the evening.

Bakers say that the five-cent loaf of bread has disappeared. But it is still a five cent loaf. The other nickel goes for taxes.

OLD BOMBS

A man in New Jersey kept an old artillery shell on his mantel for a souvenir. When the young lad who was visiting dropped it, the injuries, fortunately, were not fatal, but they were pretty serious and required hospital treatment. They always explore, these old duds which are not duds. They keep on having life in them. They remind one of that old bomb—the passion for human liberty —which keeps on exploding again and again all over the world. In ancient Greece the shells popped off every now and again—sometimes disposing of the tyrant, sometimes only tightening, for a time, the tyranny.
 Rome was always thinking things were settled and the old bomb was a dud. Rome was always being surprised.

England was surprised when Magna Charta exploded in the face of King John. And England had several other surprises of that nature before her American colonies exploded. The Declaration was no dud.
 And when, in the explosive wording of that old sheet, the United States of America had come "to assume among the powers of the earth that separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and Nature's God entitle them" the citizens of France took heart from our success and went forward into a revolution of their own. It took them, however, more than one civil war to gain political liberty. There were counter-revolutions, a Third Empire, long-struggling conspiracies of the White Cockade. In the end, a comparatively settled Republic.

It was more than a hundred years later when Russians took their political liberties into their own hands, and they are still moving dimly and with difficulty towards such freedom as all Americans enjoy. Nor did we hold and broaden ours without a bloody Civil War and many a bitter contest at the polls. Slow-moving Spain arose a few years ago and declared herself a Republic. Now her government must fight to hold its gains. What will be the end? There can be but one. Through bloodshed, through storm, through poverty and sorrow man moves on. Waste and destruction accompany every forward step. The backward slides are many.
 But in the end he gets an ever-greater measure of personal, political and economic freedom. For centuries man may be quiescent, he may not seem to care. The bomb on the mantel is inert, seems dead. But give it one bump too many and it bursts.

PELTIER'S COMET

The comet which astronomers have been studying is now on its way out of our hemisphere. At the very end of its visit, the night before the one when it was closest to earth, it lost its tail. Nobody knows exactly why.
 One night there was the tail and the next night there wasn't. But it will not do any good to look for it.
 The comet is gone and is not to reappear within earth's vision for about 400 years.

Comets used to share with eclipses being regarded as signs of imminent disaster. Now they are merely subjects for study by scientists, and the average man can take or leave 'em. All we've got to say is, if this one had anything to do with producing the present troubled state of the world, we'd just as soon have it go clear to the edge of the universe, blow up and never come back.

MILLIONS OF MIKES

The extent of the revival of the bicycle, when set forth in figures, is startling. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 bicycles will be sold in the United States during 1936.
 The total in 1935 was 750,000. The new bikes are streamlined and equipped with all sorts of useful gadgets. They are ridden by old and young for a variety of reasons. Recreation and exercise are two of them.
 Many women ride bicycles to take off extra weight. There are cycling clubs whose members ride in groups in the parks or on the streets just for the fun of it. Transportation is the least important factor, though it still figures for messenger boys, newspaper carriers and a few others.

 The country lived through one bicycling era in the 'nineties. Is this one only a temporary fad, or has bike popularity come back to stay?

SPAIN'S BALANCE

It is quite possible that Spain's present contest may be decided by outsiders. Troops from Morocco are said to be enlisting on the rebel side, while the number of French volunteers pouring over the borders to join the loyalist forces increases daily. No great nation wishes to interfere or take sides officially if she can help it. Individual volunteers enlisting in foreign legions are another matter. At this moment, almost any factor may throw the balance to one side or the other.

A long drawn war between weak factions will do no one any good.
 Neither side seems to be right or its policies satisfactory. Compromise on the middle ground is indicated.
 But compromise never has come easy to folk of Spanish blood. They lack the gift possessed by the English speaking countries for slowly mud-dling through.

HAY FEVER

I sometimes wonder why hay fever sufferers do not get together and demand that all the ragweed throughout the country be destroyed because the other plants or pollen causing hay fever are insignificant in amount (ragweed causes about 98 per cent of hay fever cases).

Dr. F. A. Wier, Racine, Wisconsin, in Clinical Medicine and Surgery says, "The natural enemy of ragweed is white clover. White clover will produce three crops a year and, if sown along highways and waste places and cut regularly, it will be a valuable crop and put ragweed out of business, to say nothing of reclaiming the land for useful purposes. Make a government appropriation to the state or provincial and county highway commissions to plow up the roadsides from the road to the fences and sow it with white clover. This would remove the commonest source of ragweed and beautify the highway."

"If this project were made permanent it would only be a short time until the hay fever problem would be solved."

The only other method of preventing hay fever in a general way will not arrive until all our homes, factories and office buildings are air-conditioned. The buildings of the future then will have no windows, be air-conditioned, lighted by artificial sunlight, and will admit no pollens.

Now while this is all good sense and when established will mean few if any hay fever cases, the problem now is what to do about or how to treat hay fever cases.

That the use of the pollen vaccine is helpful before the hay fever season comes in has been proven in many cases, that it helps some cases even during the hay fever season is also true, but some local treatment to the nose to give relief during the season itself is of real practical help.

There are many so-called "cures" for hay fever, and it is true that they give temporary relief, and until the highways and fields are cleared of ragweed, any sufferer is justified in using these remedies.

The base of all these remedies is something that shrinks up the lining of the nose, especially that part of the lining covering the turbinate bones which stand out in the canal or cavity of the nose and allow the ragweed pollen to settle on them or on their ledges.

And the substance that best shrinks the membrane or lining of the nose thus removing much of the "stuffedness" is adrenalin, the juice manufactured by the adrenal glands situated one on top of each kidney.
 A mixture of that other substance,
 the Chinese drug ephedrine, with the adrenal extract is considered best,
 as it prolongs the shrinking process.

THE WORLD WITH A FENCE

A New Novel by Marion Sims

SYNOPSIS: Carol Torrance, who teaches school in Ashboro, has a major problem in Mike Hannigan, who is too handsome for his own good. Mike has been set upon by one Annabel Monroe, who absolutely refuses to marry him whether or no and Mike has good stuff in him, and deserves a better fate. When Carol was home with her family for Christmas, she was able to forget Mike. Now she is back in Ash-boro, dreading the moment when he will appear before her.

Chapter 13

MIKE AND ANNABEL

MONDAY morning, and rain.
 Whining, nagging rain, beating against the roof and filling the Great Lakes on the ceiling. Carol turned her face into the pillow and felt the weight of five more months crushing her.

She reached the building just before assembly bell, and sat at her desk, watching the first class file in.
 They came reluctantly, with memories of their holiday dragging at them, pulling them back into a cozy, too-recent past. They were glad to see her, but they were listless and distraught because of their memories.

She smiled fixedly at them and began to check the attendance, then suddenly her heart stood still.

Mike was absent—and Annabel.
 They saw her eyes flick from one empty desk to the other, and animation stirred them like a breeze. Two girls said simultaneously:

"Mike and Annabel got married,
 Miss Torrance!"

The room whirled dizzily and then receded. The sentence echoed and re-echoed in caverns of space. Mike and Annabel got married, Miss Tor-ranee!

She read the rest of the story in their eager, thrilled faces. She clenched her hands beneath the desk and lifted an eyebrow.

"That's quite a surprise, isn't it?
 We'll miss them..."

The day went by on stumbling feet, and rain slashed viciously at the windows. She gathered her belongings finally and fled through the rain to the sanctuary of her room.

It was almost five when Ellen came in. Ellen's eyes were sick, too, and incredulously peered through the sickness.

"Carol! Isn't it ghastly?"

"Oh, my Lord!" Carol leaned her forehead against the cold, moist glass and closed her eyes. "Let's talk about something else," she said finally. "What else did you do at Christmas?"

THAT night Mrs. O'Connor called from downstairs. "There's somebody to see you, Miss Torrance."

Carol went down.

"It's Mike Hannigan," Mrs. O'Connor whispered excitedly. "He wouldn't come in."

"Then I'd better get a coat." She went back for her heavy coat, then stepped outside and closed the door behind her.

Mike was a tall, blurred shadow.
 She thrust out her hands blindly, and he caught at them like a drowning man.

"Mike!" They stared at each other for a long time. "Please come inside; there's no one in the living room."

"I'd rather not, please, Miss Tor-ranee. I won't stay but a minute."

She turned towards the soot-stained swing. "Then sit down. It's dirty, but it seems to be dry."

He sat down beside her. There was a light in Mrs. Taylor's house, and the cold white shaft fell on his face and emphasized its desolation.
 Because he couldn't speak Carol plunged into the midst of the thing.

"Mike, you ought to have written me. Not that I could have done anything. Like I told you, it was too late."

She ached for him. "I told you I knew a little about the way her mind worked."

"I don't see how you could; you're as different from her as daylight from dark."

I wonder? she thought. Suppose I wanted something as badly as Annabel wanted Mike? I wonder how far I'd go? She found herself wishing she could want something that badly, and turned her back on the thought.

"What happens next, Mike?"

"I had to go to work in Mr. Mon-roe's store. We live at their house, and—it's hell."

She could picture it all. A dotting mother and father who were forced to see and support the first head who had bedeviled them; only child into a necessary marriage.

"They won't consider letting you go on and study law?"

So he'd been studying law. "No, no! I could have worked my own way through school, but I couldn't look at her—or a wife I've got to stay here and try to do it—if I can stand it."

The last words were scarcely spoken. She knew what was in his mind, and she found herself hoping furiously that he wouldn't stand it too long. She sat still, shivering with cold, and stared at the dark.

Mike's control snapped suddenly and he hunched forward with his face in his hands.

"Oh, God, Miss Torrance; do I have to go on like this?"

She stretched out her hands and touched his head, and he turned swiftly to her, resting his head against her.

"I—don't know, Mike. If you can stand it I guess you'd better do it.
 It's bound to get better after a while."

A car drew up before the house and Mike jerked himself quickly to his feet.

"I got to go. They'll be wondering where I am." He crushed her hands for an instant and brushed his lips against hers. Then he ran precipitately down the steps, past
 Miss Morrison's interested caller.

Carol turned and went blindly into the house and up the stairs. She passed Miss Morrison on the way, said: "Hello. Your date's come," and fled to the quiet of her own room.

Mike plodded back to Annabel's house with his head down. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe were in the livingroom, and he knew from the quick silence that they had been talking about him. Broken sentences hung in the air like smoke.

He said: "Evening," and tried to walk past the bright hostility of their eyes into the room he shared with Annabel. Mr. Monroe said coldly:

"Where have you been?"

"To see my mother and father."

He had intended to go there if he could find a ride out to the village,
 but the search had been unsuccessful, and loneliness and desperation had lashed him irresistibly towards Mrs. O'Connor's. Fortunately there was no telephone at home and he could warn his parents before Mr.
 Monroe checked up.

Mr. Monroe stared at him. "I've meant to talk to you about that, Mike. Since you've forced yourself into our family, I think it would be a good idea for you to forget where you came from."

Mike's head came up. "You mean —not ever see them?"

"Not if you can help it, yes. It will be less embarrassing."

Mike looked at him hard. Mr. Monroe felt vaguely defensive, and resented the feeling.

"I got you," Mike said finally. And walked out of the room.

That night, when midnight had turned its face towards morning, Mike slipped quietly out. He had no luggage, and he had three dollars and fifty-cent cents in his pocket.
 Daybreak found him 30 miles on his way north. He had seen his parents and told them the truth, and they had bid him goodbye. They had the militant consciousness of their class, and Mr. Monroe's attitude had alienated them forever.

ON WEDNESDAY Mr. Hudson

stopped Carol in the hall after chapel.

"Miss Torrance?"

"Yes?"

"I'd like to talk to you, please, as soon as it's convenient."

She looked at him in surprise.
 "Why, of course. At lunch, or after school?"

"After school would be better.
 I'll be in my office, if you'll just come there..."

He bowed and walked on, and she stared after him. It was the first time she had seen him without his beam, and a sense of foreboding was like a hand closing around her throat. She went through the day mechanically.

After school she hurried to the office that served as his headquarters. He was standing at the window, looking into the yard.

He turned slowly, and the hand at her throat tightened. "Sit down,
 please, Miss Torrance."

She sat down and waited, but Mr.
 Hudson found it hard to begin.

"Miss Torrance...I'm in a rather difficult position. It's about Mike Hannigan."

"Oh." He didn't seem disposed to go on, so she helped him out. "What about him, please?"

"The impression in certain quarters is that you rather—upheld him.
 That you even urged him to run away. The slight before he left he went to see you, and an observer insists the interview was hardly that of a teacher and pupil. He was crimson with embarrassment."

Carol offers to let Mr. Hudson change her seat, tomorrow.

SOUTH RONDOUT

South Rondout, Aug. 12—Miss Irene Scherrer and Louis Jones returned to Monticello on Sunday where they spent the day with Mr.
 and Mrs. Fred Stach and family.

Mrs. Julia Mains and Mr. Rodney Dubois and daughter Betty and Miss Sarah Becker, returned to Athens on Friday and visited the Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Smith.

Frances Miller has returned home from a vacation spent with her aunt, Mrs. Fick, of Clifton, N. J.

The Mowbray family enjoyed Sunday at Conesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Vogt, Jr. and children of Gordon were recent callers on their grandmother, Mrs.
 Fred Vogt.

Dr. Conde Lawing and daughter of West New York and Mrs. Kate Clair of Brookline spent the weekend at the Henry Clark home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley and daughter, Lillian, were supper guests on Tuesday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Weller.

The fire drill was held Tuesday evening instead of Monday owing to the storm, and the apparatus found to be in excellent condition in case of fire.

Dr. F. Vogt has been spending the past week with his mother, Mrs. F.
 Vogt.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scherer called on Mr. and Mrs. Martin Moran at their summer home in Wilbur recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maurer of Roosevelt Park, Elgin, called on relatives in the village on Tuesday evening.

Ralph Davis of Brooklyn is spending a few days with his father, at Otisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Brown of Montgomery spent Saturday night at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cole and daughter, Anna, spent Sunday at Sunset View bungalow, Beacon Falls.

Safety Records Set In New York State

Chicago, Aug. 13 (Special).—The National Safety Council said today that three pairs of adjoining states
 —New York and New Jersey in the east, Wisconsin and Iowa in the midwest and Utah and Nevada in the west—were the heaviest winners as the books were closed on the first six months of the nation's drive against motor traffic accidents with a country-wide three per cent fatality reduction.

Across the board, the Council said,
 each set of states turned in excellent records on three tests of effectiveness in a traffic safety program —reduction in number of accident deaths, maintenance or reduction of better than average death rates per 100,000 of population, and maintenance or reduction of better than average death rates per 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumed.

New York and New Jersey, the Council said, with a unique problem of tremendous daily inter-state traffic that pours millions of persons and automobiles in and out of New York city and New Jersey, and with statewide density of population that exceeds other sections, set a "praiseworthy" example for other states.

New York, at the close of the first six months of 1936, had reduced its traffic accident deaths 13 per cent from 1,199 to 1,049. More than half the difference was credited to "the big city" where 6,930,000 of the state's 13,059,000 population is concentrated. New York state's death rate per 100,000 of population, the Council said, was fixed at 18.3, compared to 54.9 in Arizona, the highest in the country, and 47.0 in California.

The rate per 10,000 gallons of gasoline in New York's Empire State was 14.3, against 29.6 in Georgia and 28.7 in Alabama and North Carolina.
 Gasoline consumption said the Council, has increased about 4 per cent in New York state this year—from 580,241,000 to 603,429,000 gallons at the end of May.

New Jersey topped its neighbor with a 16 per cent reduction in auto accident deaths, according to Council reports; its death rate per 100, 000 of population was a little higher
 —20.1, while the rate per 10,000, 000 gallons of gasoline consumed
 was lower—11.5.

Records of the middle west's winning pair, the Council's reports showed, were more closely bunched.
 Reductions in deaths for the half-year, compared to the corresponding period of 1935 were: Wisconsin 21 per cent, or 51, from 241 to 190;
 Iowa 13 per cent, or 30, from 235 to 205.

The gasoline consumption rates were:
 Wisconsin, 11.2 and Iowa, 10.2.
 The population death rates: Wisconsin, 15.7 and Iowa 16.2.

The far-western duo, where the Council said street and highway safety was making great strides under the handicaps of huge square-mile area and small per-square-mile-population that make financing of a safety program difficult, recorded good but less consistent rates.

Nevada reported its traffic deaths for the period were down 26 per cent, or 9, from 35 to 26, against 8 per cent

U. S. Gets Set For 3-Billion-Dollar Moving Day

GOLD MOVES . . .

In the dead of night within the next few weeks a convoy of armored trucks bearing powerful searchlights will swing into the street from the Philadelphia mint. Soldiers, government men and local police will keep a sharp watch as they hold firearms ready. In the heart of the convoy will be six trucks—laden with gold. It will be the start of one part of the gigantic task of transporting $3,000,000,000 of gold from eastern caches to the new vault at Fort Knox, Ky.

BY ARMORED TRAIN . . .

The cavalcade will move to special armored trains on which the bullion will be loaded for shipping via parcel post. Each train, half-filled with guards, will carry between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 over trackage which has been inspected ahead of time. It is estimated between 40 and 50 trains will be required. Once the trip is under way, suspicious looking characters along the line will be rounded up and jailed until the train has passed.

TO NEW "STRONG BOX"

At Fort Knox, a two-story vault of stone and steel built on a military reservation in the shadow of hills which provide natural fortifications, awaits the gold. Treasury employees backed up by 1,400 troops will stand guard. The walls are two feet thick. Brilliant lights and mirrors under the floors and over the ceiling give guards an excellent view. A parapet circles the building and photo-electric rays will warn of any intruder.

Events Around The Empire State

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13 (P).—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith stopped in Albany on his way to a Catholic summer camp at Cliff Haven on Lake Champlain last night because "Albany happens to be about half way from Broadway."

The former governor stayed overnight in a hotel facing the capitol but firmly declined to discuss politics. He was accompanied by Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mooney of New York.

Kinderhook, N. Y., Aug. 13 (P).—Arthur Betts, a consulting engineer, who traveled 3,000 miles for treatment for bullet wounds, will complete the last stage of his journey today when he goes to a Troy Hospital.

Betts arrived at his home here yesterday from French Guiana, where he said he was shot when he refused to aid a convict who escaped from the French penal colony at Cayenne. Betts was wounded in the chest and arm.

Leaving his son, Peter, in charge of his lumber mill on the Appurague river, Betts started back to the United States for treatment. He said he considered the doctors in the jungle region amateurs. He arrived in New York yesterday and came directly to his home here, where his wife awaited him.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 13 (P).—Miss Freida Kreiger, 23, of Middletown, N. Y., was killed when the cab in which she was riding crashed into a truck on the Post road near here. Miss Kreiger was supervisor of the operating room at the Vassar Hospital.

Miss Evelyn Lawrence, 22, a nurse, and Dr. Jesse Lockwood, 28, of Woodcliff, N. J., and Dr. John M. Kerrigan, 31, of Beverly Farms, Mass., were injured. Police said Dr. Lockwood lost control of the car on a curve late last night.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, Aug. 12.—The Rev. and Mrs. E. Bond Brown and daughters spent Wednesday in Kingston.

Mrs. H. Lee Brethaupt and family were Margaretville callers Wednesday.

Harrison Wright is spending some time with his brother, Alonzo Wright, and family.

Mrs. George Wilson, who has been in the Kingston Hospital for treatment, has returned home.

Roscoe Paul of Kingston is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brethaupt.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church will hold their weekly food and fancy articles sale in the basement of the Baptist Church Saturday, August 15.

Messrs. William Malloy and George Conway spent Monday in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shurter attended the funeral of a relative in Kingston on Friday.

Fred Forbes of New York was a week-end caller in town.

Miss Elora Brethaupt, who has been spending the last two weeks in Vermont, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson of Kingston spent Sunday with Henry Boles.

The local school will open Tuesday, September 1, with Miss Mary Gormley, principal; Mrs. Ray Donovan, intermediate; Miss Minnie Simpson, primary.

Mrs. George Conway entertained friends at bridge on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gordon are entertaining friends from New York. William Lange, who is employed at Lake Mohawk, spent Sunday at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Paul and son, William, of Schenectady are spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brethaupt.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baldwin of Oneonta were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Newman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy were in Kingston callers Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Brethaupt and family spent Sunday with friends at Hancock.

William Malloy is at present temporary guard at Napanoch.

HIGHLAND

Highland, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Harriet Ames left Wednesday for a two days' visit at the home of her brother in Westfield, N. J.

Zeno Lodge, Knights of Pythias, holds short business meetings during the two months of warm weather. There are candidates waiting to be initiated when the lodge takes on more work.

Mrs. James Smith spent Wednesday with relatives in Gardiner.

Miss Gladys La Duce and Oliver Burnett of Albany were entertained over the week-end by Mr. and Mrs. Parker Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feeter were down from Kingston Tuesday afternoon while Mr. Feeter attended a meeting of the bank directors.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Osterhout are entertaining the latter's sister and son, Mrs. R. C. Pinkham and Donald, of Flushing, L. I.

Milton Man Named In Two Suits

New York, Aug. 12 (Special).—Ralph Pepe of Milton is named defendant in two suits instituted today in United States District Court here, the result of an automobile accident on Route 9W, about a mile north of Milton.

The plaintiffs are Hardie B. Wainwright of Montclair, who asks $1,500 for his Rolls-Royce which was wrecked, and $3,000 for his personal injuries, and a passenger in the Wainwright car, Anita Y. Ouellette, who aims to recover $10,000 for her injuries.

Both charge Pepe with responsibility for the accident, which they say was due to his reckless driving of a truck.

Florence Teas and Mrs. Benedict of Poughkeepsie left Thursday for a few days at Lake George. Miss Teas is having a two weeks' vacation from her position in the office at the Montgomery Ward store in Poughkeepsie.

Miss Marian Deyo spent the week-end with Miss Marian Heard in camp on the Esopus creek.

The Wilcox store was closed Wednesday afternoon preparing for the sale held the next day.

Mr. Jackson, state representative of the Chevrolet car company, will be the speaker and give a showing of pictures at the meeting of the Lotus Club Monday evening at the Elms.

He comes through Dr. Carl F. Meekins, the president, LeGrand Haviland, Jr., will preside.

George Harris of Brooklyn arrives Saturday to spend his vacation with his sister, Mrs. William Waterbury.

The meeting of the U. D. Society will be held Saturday afternoon with Miss Eliza Raymond and Mrs. Dora R. Haight.

Reports of the condition of Howard E. Wilcox are a bit more encouraging although great care is still exercised for quiet.

Amos 'n' Andy will begin their eighth year as NBC comedy stars on Wednesday, August 19, at 7 p. when they broadcast their 2,395th episode over an NBC-Red Network on Wednesday, August 19, at 7 p. m., E. D. S. T.

CUTTY SARK

SCOT'S WHISKY

No matter how little respect you have for age and tradition you must admit it does matter in whisky—especially CUTTY SARK ancestry. Since the 17th Century, without interruption, Berry Bros. & Co. have catered to the world's most exacting tastes. The inimitable flavor, delicacy and mellowness of Berry Bros. CUTTY SARK are eloquent proof that ancestry counts!

An Advertising Editorial

FEAR Saves Life!

Fear is one of man's most valuable instincts. It is an inner voice that says "Watch out! Take care!" and it has kept him from many dangers.

Fear has its place in modern life. The man who is afraid of what may happen to his family is the saving, provident man. The man who is afraid of auto accidents is the man who keeps his car in good repair. The wise man is cautious; the foolhardy man comes to grief.

Fear has its rightful place in advertising. Not in wild "scare copy" that tries to frighten without cause, but in the message that seeks to awaken the reader's instinct for self-preservation and guide it into channels truly helpful both to reader and advertiser. The advertiser who sells insurance, brake service, medical preparations or acid chains has a delicate task and a big responsibility. To him we can offer the help and advice which will enable him to get results without abusing that responsibility.

On The Radio Day By Day

By E. R. BOUTWELL

Time is Daylight Saving.

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Broadcast time for the Friday evening address of President Roosevelt, coming from Chautauque, N. Y., has been set for 8 o'clock. The talk is to present an "Important Statement on Foreign Affairs."

A coast to coast WJZ-NBC network will be hooked into microphones on the speakers' platform.

Somewhat of overseas sports week-end is in prospect for network followers. Besides the various Olympic broadcasts previously scheduled, William Slater, NBC announcer sent to Berlin for the world events, is going to London so that he can give a summary for WJZ-NBC at 6:15 p. m. Saturday of the British-American track and field meet. Closing of the Olympics on Sunday, with the ceremonies described for both NBC and CBS around 1 p. m., will conclude more than two weeks of daily broadcasting from Berlin. Another week-end sport activity, this one in New York as the World Labor Athletic Carnival, will be detailed for 45 minutes on WJZ-NBC Sunday afternoon.

Bennett Probes Alleged Tax Fraud

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—A Moreland act investigation of charges that the state was defrauded of approximately $100,000 in gasoline tax refunds was disclosed today when Governor Lehman announced he had designated Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., to conduct the inquiry. Deputy Attorney General Joseph F. Menick, of Troy, was named his assistant.

The governor said he invoked the Moreland act for the first time in several years to give the attorney general full powers of subpoena.

Three persons have been indicted in connection with a previous investigation into the fraud.

Lon Ramefeld, 43, of New York city, pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny in June and was sentenced to seven to fifteen years in Clinton prison at Dannemora.

His sister, Mrs. Lila R. Papen, former acting head of the motor fuel tax refund bureau in the state tax department, and Addison Putnam, of Gloversville, are under indictment for grand larceny in connection with the same case.

Governor Lehman said the investigation actually has been under way for two weeks.

CCC Achievements In State Listed

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP).—Flood control, forest conservation work and the development of recreational areas were listed today as among the major accomplishments of the Civilian Conservation Corps in New York state.

Reviewing the three years and three months that the program has been in operation, Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, called particular attention to flood control along the Wallkill river and soil erosion control operations on farm lands.

At the same time, he said he had been advised by the state conservation department "there can be no question but that the CCC has been a real boon to conservation in New York state."

"The money which has been expended on the operation of the CCC program in New York has been of assistance to business and industry throughout the state," Fechner declared.

Total obligations incurred in its operation from April, 1933 through June 30, 1936, he said, are estimated by the chief of finance of the war department at $51,945,000.

Three Men Named as Emergency Firemen

With the 18th annual convention of the New York State Permanent Firemen's Association convening in Kingston on Sunday, the Board of Fire Commissioners have appointed Daniel Noble, Joseph Cwili and Kenneth Soper to serve as emergency firemen during the duration of the convention which closes on Wednesday afternoon.

Roofing Permits Issued.

Permits were issued the Ulster County Roofing Company this week for re-roofing the following Kingston homes: Mrs. Anna Noble, 128 Newkirk avenue; C. Schleid, 79 Lindsley avenue; H. McCordle, 40 Roundout street and Nicholas Lemster, 35 Lindsley avenue. A re-siding job just completed by this company on the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Planthaber, 29 Grove street is attracting considerable attention. The materials used are grey wood type asbestos siding with trellis green and amber white trim.

Warms Of Bike Hazards

Madison, Wis. (AP).—The safety department of the state highway commission said "the bicycle is very similar to the man without a country in that there is no place for it, but if ridden under certain rules of safety much of the hazard can be eliminated along highways."

Unrestrained Planting

Unrestrained planting in the corn and wheat country for next year was under discussion today as a result of drought damage.

Officials said the question whether there will be any government control whatsoever over acreage devoted to grains is up to the growers themselves.

They said Howard R. Tolley, AAA administrator, is conferring with the producers to learn their wishes.

Regardless of the result of the series of talks definite assurance came that wheat acreage will be expanded. This was decided after a preliminary conference led by J. B. Hutson, acting farm administrator.

Next season's soil conservation program was discussed.

Restraint in planting either wheat or corn for next year, some AAA officials said privately, would not be a required condition for the receipt of federal soil conservation payments.

One said that if expanded acreage and favorable weather conditions brought a bumper crop in the next growing season, there was a possibility that Secretary Wallace's "ever normal granary" plan would be put into effect. Under this plan grain surpluses of a good growing year are stored away for use in lean times.

Wallace, in Chicago yesterday, expressed a hope that congress would enact a crop insurance law. Previously he had expressed the opinion that such a law and the normal granary plan would combine to cut down the drought conditions for the most part remained unabated in Kansas 26 counties were added yesterday to the emergency list and 10 were added in Nebraska. The total stood at 956 counties in 22 states.

Committee Begins Operations.

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—A citizens' committee of 30 men, organized to promote a fight crime and racketeering in New York city, began functioning today under the direction of Harry F. Guggenheim, former ambassador to Cuba. Prominent citizens of various business and professions compose the group which is expected, chairman Guggenheim said, to receive funds from public-spirited individuals to support its activities.

Soviet Russia prepares to restrict her imports further in order to build up Russian industries. Some good internationalist ought to raise merry hull about this.

8 Women, 4 Men On Mayhem Jury

San Francisco, Aug. 13. (AP).—

Eight women and four men were tentatively on the jury today which will try two physicians charged with mayhem in connection with the sterilization of Ann Cooper Hewitt.

The heiress to the Peter Cooper Hewitt estate, variously estimated at $1,300,000 to $10,000,000, charged her mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, tricked her into the sterilization operation and is expected to testify against Dr. Tilton E. Tillman and Dr. Samuel G. Boyd.

The penalty for mayhem is one to 14 years.

Prosecutors apparently sought to place as many women as possible on the jury.

Miss Hewitt filed suit several months ago seeking $500,000 from her mother and the physicians, asserting her parent plotted to gain personal possession of the Hewitt estate. Subsequently criminal charges were brought by police.

Kingston Girl Wins RCA Victor Radio

Miss Anne G. Martin, 34 Taylor street, Kingston, has been announced as one of the 1470 winners in the Camay-RCA Victor contest, who will receive one of the new instruments developed in the Radio Corporation of American Laboratories.

The set Miss Martin will get is the type that picks up European stations, short wave police station broadcasts, those sent out by airplanes and the weather bureau. Miss Martin's essay was among the best entered in the competition sponsored by the Camay soap makers.

RCA Victor dealers in Kingston, who carry a line of radios like the one Miss Martin will receive, are Herzog Hardware Co., Bert Wilde, Inc., and Kaplan Furniture Company.

DRINK SALT WATER TO BALK HEAT DEATHS

Hemet, Calif. (AP).—With the temperature often reaching up to 120 degrees in the shade, salt water is being used to prevent heat deaths both at Boulder dam and on the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct.

More than 8,000 men are now at work on the 300 mile aqueduct which will bring water from the Parker dam on the Colorado river to cities in Southern California. About 260 miles lie in desert country, yet there have been no heat fatalities.

Workers are advised to take a teaspoonful of table salt in a glass of water each day to prevent a lowering of the saline content of the blood stream by excessive perspiration.

Free Land Offered.

Copenhagen, Aug. 13 (AP).—Col.

Charles A. Lindbergh received today an offer of free land in Sweden if he would make his home in that country. The offer came in one of many fan-mail letters the American flier receives every day. He is here demonstrating his mechanical heart, a scientific apparatus to study body cells which he invented with Dr. Alexis Carrel of New York.

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-RID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Lohmiller, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, raises the pressure of the congested blood and helps to heal and restore the affected parts. HEM-RID has such a fine record of success that McBride Drug Stores and all druggists say one bottle of HEM-RID Tablets must have your Pile agony or money back—adv.

Named In Spy Case

Japanese Commander Yosiyuki Itimura (above), former assistant naval attaché, was named by a grand jury in Washington as an alleged conspirator with John S. Farnsworth to deliver American defense secrets to Japan. His name was contained in a new indictment against Farnsworth, dismissed naval officer. Itimura was not indicted, however. He was said to have left the capital in 1934. (Associated Press Photo).

Lowered Barriers on Trade With Nazis Forecast in Note

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON (Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—An early lowering of trade barriers between the United States and Germany was forecast in reliable quarters today following presentation by Ambassador Hans Luther, an important note on the subject to William Phillips, acting secretary of state.

The contents of the note has not yet been revealed officially but it was learned authoritatively that it conveyed the German government's agreement to discontinue wide subsidizing exports to the United States. This practice impelled the United States more than a month ago to levy extra duties against German imports into this country.

The German government's action was expected in well-informed quarters here to result in a withdrawal of the treasury decree imposing the excess taxes in the form of "countervailing duties."

The German move, it was stated, would apply to all contracts for exports to the United States concluded since August 3.

Although the German government's decision generally is expected by informed quarters here to remove such artificial obstacles to German-American trade, it was predicted nevertheless that an increase in commerce between the two countries might not result, due in large part to the scarcity of foreign exchange in Germany.

Henceforth, German purchases in the United States must be paid for in marks convertible into foreign exchange, whereas formerly through a system of export bounties paid to exporters, German industry was able to buy in the United States with so-called "aski" marks, which were not actually taken out of the country.

The reported German action toward discontinuing export subsidies was said to include prohibition of the use of such marks in the future.

Both Sides Claim Gains In Spain

sure of its control in the eastern province of Valencia was seen in the fact Diego Martinez-Barrio, president of the Spanish parliament, was planning to return to Madrid after a three-week tour to arouse enthusiasm for the cause of President Manuel Azana's administration.

Wounded General. The newspaper "ABC," sympathetic to the government, reported General Miguel Cabanellas, head of the Rebel Provisional Government at Burgos, had been critically wounded.

Dissolution of all religious orders and courts of justice was ordered by President Azana in rebel-controlled territory.

Government claims of suppression of the rebellion in various provinces were renewed.

Their forces, they said, now control these provinces: North: Santander, Bilbao and the territory immediately surrounding the city of San Sebastian in Guipuzcoa.

South: Almeria, Malaga, Murcia, East: Barcelona, Gerona, Lerida, Tarragona, Castellon, Valencia, Alicante.

Central: Madrid, Albacete, Ciudad Real, Cuenca, Toledo, Guadalajara and Badajoz.

Claims to partial domination of large sections in other provinces also were made.

Fascists Concentrate (Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press)
With the rebel army at Tolosa, Spain, Aug. 13—Fascist rebels, pressing toward San Sebastian in an effort to recapture the government-controlled seaport, concentrated today at the little village of Villabona.

The insurgent position, established after a hard day's fighting, brought the rebel forces to within 12 miles of the resort city on the Bay of Biscay.

Reinforcing troops, under the command of Colonel Borlegui were already established at Oyarzun, only eight miles from San Sebastian.

Rebel commanders laid claim to occupation of two points on the railroad running between San Sebastian, Irun and Bilbao.

An armored car loaded with government soldiers drove into the city, its occupants apparently unaware the territory had been occupied by the fascists.

The machine's approach was the signal for a hail of bullets from waiting rebel machine guns. All eight of the government soldiers in the car were killed.

(Rebel planes are reported to have bombed Errondo and Pasaia, coastal towns, but were chased away by government ships.)

Several civilians were wounded, advices from Bayona said, when three bombs burst in a street of Pasaia.

The capture of Tolosa was more dramatic than difficult for invading fascists—partly because the town had been abandoned by millitiamen fighting for the socialist-Communist Madrid government.

Reconno. The rebels said the people's commission for war for Guipuzcoa Province had ordered the evacuation after they saw the rebel columns approaching. The attackers encountered only a small amount of hand-to-hand fighting in the streets.

Twelve political prisoners were slain by the government supporters before they left, the rebels said. Residents of the town who fled to the hills when the government militia first took control of the area began returning to their war-torn homes.

At Gaieta, a church was demolished in an air attack and rebels

Dutch Girl Wins 100-Meter Title at Olympics Today

Berlin, Aug. 13 (AP)—Dina Senff of Holland captured the women's Olympic 100 meter backstroke swimming championship today after Dorothy Poynton Hill of Los Angeles successfully defended the platform diving title.

Rita Mastenbroek, also of Holland, took second place in a close finish with Alice Bridges of Uxbridge, Mass., third and Edith Mottridge Segal of Los Angeles fourth.

The four leaders appeared to hit the finish together but the judges finally placed Miss Senff as the winner in 1:18.9, far behind the new Olympic record of 1:16.6 she set during the trials.

Miss Mastenbroek was caught in 1:19.2, Miss Bridges in 1:19.4, and Mrs. Segal in 1:19.6.

U. S. Continues Surge.

Otherwise the United States continued its upward surge in Olympic aquatic competition today, capturing the first two places in the women's platform diving championship and successfully meeting all preliminary competition in the women's 400 meter and men's 1,500 meter free style swimming events.

Dorothy Poynton Hill, Los Angeles blonde, who won the 1932 Olympic platform diving title, retained her crown in a close race with Velma Dunn of Monrovia, Calif., and Katho Koehler of Germany. Mrs. Hill, the favorite, scored 33.93 points in the four-dive program against 33.63 for Miss Dunn and 33.43 for Fraulein Koehler. By finishing third, the German girl broke America's monopoly on all the current Olympic diving medals.

Two Quality. Mrs. Lenore Kight Wingard of Homestead, Pa., and Mary Lou Petty of Seattle qualified for the semi-finals of the women's 400-meter free style championship. Mrs. Wingard finished second in the first heat which Ragnhild Hveger, 15-year-old Dane, won in the new Olympic record time of 5:28. Miss Petty, barely recovered from an attack of pneumonia poisoning, was third and last in her heat, with the first three in each trial qualifying for the next round.

Jack Medica, Seattle flash who captured the men's 400-meter free style title yesterday, raced to a dead heat with Noburo Terada of Japan in the second heat of preliminary competition in the 1,500 meter free style competition. Medica and Terada each was clocked in 19:55.5. Sunao Ishihara of Japan won the first heat in 19:55.8.

Two more heats were to be run later today, the first three in each heat and the two fastest four-place finishers qualifying for the semi-finals. Ralph Flanagan of Miami, Fla., and Jim Christy of Chicago, the other American contenders, were slated to face the starter in the later trials.

UTO BEATS FLANAGAN

Shumpei Uto, Japanese favorite, beat Flanagan by a length in the third heat of the 1500 which was strictly a duel between these two. Flanagan led almost to the halfway mark when the Japanese pulled ahead and stayed there with the Miami man making no serious effort to catch him. Freese of Germany was third almost 50 meters back.

Uto was clocked in 19:48.3 and Flanagan in 19:49.9.

Christy easily distanced Norman Walnwright of Great Britain in the fourth and last heat. After passing the Briton at the halfway mark, Christy went on to win by 25 meters in 20:26.5.

Detsumo Hamuro of Japan won the first of five heats in the men's 200 meter breast stroke preliminaries and set up a new Olympic record of 2:42.4. The former record of 2:44.3 was set in a trial heat of the 1932 Olympics by Ritsa Koko.

Seta was clocked in 2:44.6, also under the former record. Ray Kaye of Detroit was third in 2:48.5.

Hamuro swam half the length of the pool under water at the start and gained a length lead which he held. Kaye had difficulty beating Adjaluddin of the Philippines, who was fourth in 2:50.2. The first three in each heat and the fastest fourth qualified for the semi-finals.

Basketball Wins

Berlin, Aug. 13 (AP)—The United States basketball team moved into the final round of the Olympic tournament today, defeating Mexico, 25 to 19. The winners held a 13-2 lead at half time.

WEST HURLEY

West Hurley, Aug. 13—Robert Stutenberg is the proud owner of a new Oldsmobile sedan.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Veerster, D. D., and sons returned to their West Hurley summer home on Monday.

Aubrey Berry, who is employed at Nohook is enjoying a few days' vacation at home.

Miss Mariel Edwards of Hobart is visiting the Berry family for a short time.

Dr. J. M. Veerster left West Hurley Thursday morning en route to Cincinnati and other Ohio points where he will fill a series of speaking engagements.

found the ruins with a broken figure of Christ on top of the obelisk.

(Advices from across the line were the government troops were moved to oppose the rebel advance.)

declared 25 Mexican volunteers had arrived at Irun to fight with the Madrid militia.

(The Belgians were declared to have said 2,000 others were enroute by boat to Pasaia with a full cargo of arms.)

Scott Tells of Marriage

Hollywood, Aug. 13 (AP)—Randolph Scott, Virginia's tall, personable gift to the screen, told a secret today. For almost five months he has been married to the former Miss Du Pont Somerville, his school-day friend at Montpelier, Va. Their romance began when he went home to Montpelier last spring, he disclosed.

closed. She had been divorced from T. H. Somerville in Reno in October, 1935.

A high school graduating class at Canaan, New York, was made noteworthy by the fact that nine of its 15 young people were members of the local Grange, including both the valedictorian and salutatorian of the class.

We wed for wealth; then learn, too late, we're not so very smart. That money can't fill empty arms, or ease an aching heart. For love is all that really counts. There's nothing else on earth. That matters even one wee bit, or holds one speck of worth. We try to act like happy wives, as gay as little elves; But we don't fool one single soul except—our silly selves.—L. M.

Valet—Did you ring, sir?
Man—No, that was just my nerves jangling.

An honest man is the noblest work of God—and the honest nation that pays its war debt is a close second.

Brown arrived at his office Monday morning with one arm in a sling and a patch over one eye. His friend asked what had happened:
Brown—This is what comes of taking a doctor's advice.
Friend—Doctor's advice? I don't understand.
Brown—Well, my doctor told me to go for a tramp every day. I can't get out the first three days, but the fellow I tackled yesterday was a former pugilist.

There's so much bad in the best of us that it scarcely behooves any of us to try reforming the rest of us.

Friend—What a loving wife you have. Here you're been married for 16 years and I notice that she still meets you at the door when you come home from work.
Man—Yes, she's afraid I'll forget to wipe my feet before I come in.

A pessimist is a man who refuses to be happy today because he fears he may be miserable tomorrow.

MacDonald—Do you mean to say that you MacTavish spent a tidy sum on Helen last night?
MacPherson—Yes, the dollar bill was folded six times, very neatly.

They say a Scotchman from Aberdeen is putting off buying an atlas until world affairs look a little more settled.

Collector—I've called to collect some back payments on your antique furniture.
Mr. Scott—I never bought any antique furniture.

Collect—Well, perhaps it wasn't antique when you bought it.

Every Seventeen Years
Everywhere my eyes are focused. There, b'gosh, I see a locust. And my ear-drums are demolished by their whirr:
On the sidewalk, street, and gutter. Down my neck and in the butter. Why, they're worse than politicians, I aver!

A young school teacher who enjoys reading this column, says that one of her pupils presented this excuse for his absence:
"Dear Teacher—Jim was not able to be in school yesterday. He had a cough, also a very sore foot. He let a cow step on his foot and she forgot to get off."

Mrs. Fugger—Are you sure these are strictly fresh eggs?
Greener—Certainly, madam. The farmer who brings them to me refuses to keep chickens which lay any other kind.

The political prize which nobody wants is the job of balancing the budget.

The gunman walked into a pawn shop and put a gun on the counter. He asked for a loan on it:
Broker—Is it a good gun?
Gunner—Certainly it's good. I bumped off 14 guys with this gun.

Broker—You don't say. If that's the case why do you want to sell it?
Gunner—I just found out that you need a license to carry a gun.

We also detect those rascals who point out the other rascals to deflect attention from their own rascality.

Revenge is just about the most expensive luxury known to man.

Campsites Used State Discovers

Albany, Aug. 13 (Special)—An increase of over 14 per cent in the use of the free public campsites maintained by the Conservation Department in the Forest Preserve is reported for the period ending August 2. The comparative period for last year was up to and including August 4, 1935. The total man days use this year was a total of 516,129 as compared with 450,240 man days use a year ago.

Figures in the possession of the Conservation Department indicate that about 30 per cent of this total of 516,129 represents campers and the remainder the picnicker, swimmer or day visitor. Questionnaires distributed a year ago indicated that each camper spent in the vicinity of the campsite for supplies and other necessities about 60 cents a day. Based on these figures the Department has estimated that over $30,000 has been left with merchants and storekeepers near the various campsites so far this year. No attempt has ever been made to ascertain whether the picnicker, swimmer or day visitor purchases supplies or other necessities near the sites.

The figures also reveal that 339,633 individuals have visited the 29 campsites this year as compared with 290,413 last year. Many of these individuals carry in the campsite only long enough to have a picnic lunch or a swim, while many others camp for periods of a few days to several weeks.

Fish Creek Pond campsite near Upper Saranac has had the greatest man day use with 61,525 as compared with 53,300 last year. Some 27,000 individuals have visited this campsite this year and last year 25,901 individuals were registered.

Hearthstone Point Campsite on Lake George shows 58,004 man days use for 1936 and 48,595 for 1935, while 80,885 individuals is the total for 1936 as compared with 24,464 for the same period a year ago.

The largest number of individual persons to visit one of the sites has been at Crown Point on Lake Champlain, where 31,918 persons have visited this year as against 26,017 in 1935.

Golden Beach campsite, on Raquette Lake, has attracted 12,855 individuals for 1936 and 10,450 for 1935, while last year 10,450 persons visited it in the same length of time and chalked up 18,329 man days use.

Another campsite having almost as much use is the Lake George Battle ground where 10,350 persons have visited it for 22,644 man days use. In 1935 the total was 7,601 persons and 18,273 man days use.

In the Catskill region, the North Lake campsite has had 14,341 individuals registered and 17,950 man days use as compared with 7,746 individuals and 10,650 man days use up to August, 1935.

"Increased use of the state's campsites indicates that more people are traveling and enjoying vacations this year," declared Deputy Commissioner John T. Gibbs. "An increase of nearly 50,000 persons visiting the campsites for one purpose or another surely proves that the people have more money to spend and this probably comes from increased earning power. Also, New York state is undoubtedly profiting from its advertising and publicity campaign."

MODES of the MOMENT

For a Conquering Co-Ed

Here is an outfit designed to brighten the co-ed's college entrance and to serve for running about town later. Adler & Adler design it of black and sand checked wool woven with rabbit hair. It combines a shirt-waist frock trimmed with bias bands and a three-quarter length coat of the same fabric. A black felt beret and black calfskin bag and shoes are worn with it.

Home Institute CORRECT TABLE ETIQUETTE

Bertha's Table Blunder Shocks Paul

What's this startling scene? Just Bertha observing one of those old superstitions about table manners!

She's heard somewhere that you should remove an olive pit, fish bone, or fruit stone from the mouth behind the veil of a napkin. But dragging up that big dinner napkin only attracts unfavorable attention. Just deposit the pit in your cupped hand, and lay it on your plate.

Paul looks positively petrified at her performance! Several other diners are smiling in spite of themselves.

Bertha also has a mistaken way of cutting cauliflower, spinach, and other vegetables into many small pieces with knife and fork, instead of taking a piece at a time with fork alone. She marks her mashed potato in ridges with the tines of her fork.

A properly set place at table puzzles Bertha. She never understands that you use first the piece of flat silver farthest from the plate. She always uses her salad fork for the meat course.

She's never learned to hold her fork with forefinger held gracefully along the handle when she cuts steak. And she spreads a whole slice of bread with butter, props it permanently in her left hand and nips away at it as needed. Etiquette says, butter a small bit at a time.

Supervised Play Topic for Rotary

An enlightening insight into the work being done in Kingston in the matter of supervised play was given before Rotary in the Governor Clinton hotel yesterday noon by Stuart Parks, who is in charge of this type of work locally. Mr. Parks brought a wealth of material with him on the subject in an effort to acquaint his audience with the importance of supervised recreation as a means to a better community. His entire talk might well be summed up in his belief that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in the guidance of youth into the proper channels of conduct during the formative period of their lives.

Mr. Parks incessantly stressed the fact that proper play is as important to growing children as food and sleep and that the value of supervised recreation in this city will amply repay the community for the effort and cost involved in its operation. It was the speaker's argument that environment was the key to proper conduct and that the social ills of the world would be alleviated by an orderly supervision of youth.

The speaker said that so many adults brought up the question that they never enjoyed the benefits of supervised play in their youth and they saw no necessity for present day youth to enjoy its advantages. He answered this argument by saying that people could also get along without electric lights, automobiles or the telephone. In the speaker's mind it was all a matter of progress and he felt that supervised play was one of the few things thrown into the discard while the rest of the world advanced with new ideas and inventions. "The trouble with youth," said the speaker, "is the fact that they have no place to play to-day. The rapid growth of the city with their constantly increasing population and growing industry no longer gives children a back lot to play in. They are forced into the streets with the ever present menace of traffic. Play grounds are essential for them and cities are realizing how important playgrounds are to give underprivileged children a chance to play properly."

Mr. Parks said that supervised play in Kingston was a comparatively new thing and that it would grow in scope and importance with each coming year. He urged his listeners to realize how important this type of social work was to Kingston and stated that its results would be noticeable in the future.

DRY BROOK

Dry Brook, Aug. 13.—Billy Todd has purchased a new Arabian saddle horse, having sold his small pony to parties in Fleischmanns.

A force of men is busy hauling stone from highway on Belle Ayre road.

Shipping cauliflower is the order of the day, Reginald Todd having sent as high as 200 crates in one day. The price, as usual, has declined due to heavy shipments.

Several from this place attended the donkey ball game at Fleischmanns on Sunday afternoon.

10,000 To Witness Kentucky Hanging

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 13 (AP)—Authorities estimated today approximately 10,000 persons would witness at dawn here tomorrow the public hanging of Rainey Bethea, 22, convicted negro rapist-slayer, by a woman sheriff.

As hotels began filling with visitors city officials considered closing all liquor stores at 1 a. m. tomorrow. Authorities issued warnings against drunkenness and public disturbances the morning of the execution.

The hanging—the first to be held in Daviess county since two men were executed 31 years ago before only the required number of official witnesses—will be conducted in the fenced-in yard of the county garage. Mrs. Florence Thompson, Daviess county sheriff, declined to divulge the extent she will participate in the execution.

Bethea allegedly confessed to the fatal criminal assault June 7 of Miss Eliza Edwards, 70. He was tried and convicted and sentenced to die July 31. The Kentucky Court of Appeals refused his appeal, but his attorneys delayed the hanging by obtaining a temporary writ of habeas corpus in federal court. When the permanent writ was denied the negro's attorneys gave up their fight to save his life.

"Air Control" Plan Starts Saturday

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Seeking to make the airways safer, the Bureau of Air Commerce will institute a wider system of aviation "traffic control" Saturday.

Already, the bureau has established control stations at Newark, Cleveland and Chicago airports. It is planning others.

These stations will keep track of all planes moving over the airways and may issue radio orders for changes of speed and direction to insure a smooth flow of traffic with maximum safety.

The new regulations require that all westbound planes fly the "air highways" at even altitudes such as 2,000, 4,000 and 6,000 feet and that eastbound craft fly at odd altitudes. As an additional safeguard against collisions, planes crossing an airway must fly at altitudes halfway between those for west and east bound planes, such as 2,500 or 3,500 feet.

Several "emergency altitudes" are designated for use whenever two-way radio communication fails.

For each pound of coal consumed in flight service the railroads of the United States in 1915 hauled 8 1-3 tons a distance of one mile.

CITY'S NO-NOISE DRIVE INCLUDES ENGINE TUNING

Yankees Down Senators by 11-7, Giants Nip Dodgers in 12 Innings

(By The Associated Press)

One of these days, Bump Hadley is going to lose his horse shoe. Then he won't be the league's leading pitcher any more.

Bump doesn't carry the horse shoe around with him. But that doesn't stop him from being the luckiest thrower on the Yankees' mound staff.

If not in the whole American League, Bump has started nearly as many games as any other regular Yankee pitcher and has lasted the fewest complete games.

Still, he leads the league with 11 victories against one lone setback and all of his wins have been in a row. He hasn't been charged with a defeat since April 20.

Hadley has the uncanny knack of getting himself in hot water in almost every inning he pitches, only to have his fine fielding mates pull him out.

On four occasions this season, he started games only to have his opponents blast him into the showers early, and then have his mates come from behind to save his record.

The luck still held yesterday when he chalked up his 11th straight by downing the Washington Senators 11-7.

Another lucky pitcher yesterday was St. Johnson, newcomer to the Cardinals. In his first start for the Gas House Gang he defeated the Cubs 5-3 although touched for 14 hits. His luck was packed in the bats of Johnny Mize and Ducky Medwick, who poled out homers to pull the Cards back into the National League lead.

The Giants picked up ground on the leaders by nailing out the Dodgers 2-1 in 12 innings, Gabby Gabler tripling in both runs to defeat Van Mungo.

The Yanks' American League lead was boosted to 11½ games as the Tigers trounced the second place Indians 7-4, despite Hal Trosky's 34th homer. Vernon Kennedy posted his 16th pitching victory as he hurled the White Sox to an 8-3 win over the Browns.

Winding up the American League program, the Red Sox and Athletics split in a double-header, the Sox taking the first one and the A's capturing the nightcap 6-0.

The Phillies' losing streak was stretched to ten straight as the Bees shoved over two runs in the ninth for a 4-2 win. Bill Swift allowed six hits in pitching the Pirates to a 6-1 conquest of the Reds.

Kristics Defeat Closs Clowns at Rosendale by 2-1

(By The Associated Press)

The Closs Clowns journeyed out to Rosendale last evening and dropped a 2-1 decision to the Kristics. The Clowns led 1-0 up to the last of the sixth when the winners pushed across two runs. Neither team scored in the final inning.

The Clowns outthrew the Kristics by 12 to 4 but failure to hit in the pinch accounted for their loss.

Willie Rennie went the route for the Clowns and allowed but four hits. Rennie is a newcomer in the Clown lineup and should prove a valuable asset in the future.

Jim Steigerwald starred at the plate with a double and two singles in four trips. T. Leskie and D. Ausanio each connected twice for the Clowns.

Port Even Retreats

The Port Eveners commenced their softball season in grand style giving indication that they intended to really go places in the league. Lately they have turned about face—going places in the wrong direction, and last night turned out to be just one more step down the ladder as they bowed to the Redeemers 8-1.

Hertica and Eddie Bock were the opposing moundsmen but the lads from across the creek failed to give their hurler much support.

Doubleheader at Port Even

Tonight at the Hercules diamond at 6:30, the Port Even Church will meet the Clutter Park aggregation in a doubleheader. The first game will be a first round contest which had been postponed, while the second will take the place of the regularly scheduled game of a later date. Both contests will affect the standings of these teams in the Church League.

TRIUMPH IN HAMBLETONIAN

The father-son combination of Ben White, father (center) and Gibson White (right), son, won the rich Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., with Rosalind, a graceful filly, who paced the field in two heats with the fastest time ever recorded for the event. E. Roland Hartman (left) is preventing the cup. ## EXPERIENCE VS. YOUTH—SO WHAT?

Sport Slants

Since Jack Johnson called the turn which made him an easy mark for on the Louis-Schmeling bout experts are anxious to hear what he has to say about how Joe Louis will fare against Jack Sharkey, August 18.

After looking Sharkey over at his Orangeburg, N. Y., training camp, Johnson goes on record as predicting that Louis will be battered down by the former caller just as he was by Max Schmeling.

Johnson was impressed by the apparent condition, speed and accurate punching of Sharkey. But those are not the only reasons the former heavy-weight champion is Johnson's choice. More than Sharkey's prowess, it is Louis' apparent failure to convert the faults which proved fatal in his contest with Schmeling.

Johnson refuses to believe that Louis has, in a few weeks, ironed out such serious faults as his improper stance—the style of fighting who could match Johnson for sheer skill in the art of self-defense. Few scars mark his face for all the long-time campaigns he entered. . . . and his opponents manage to break through his defense.

Sharkey Has a Left Two.

Johnson views Joe's chances of scoring over the experienced Sharkey as mighty slim because he feels that, in addition to being called on to face a fair right-handed puncher in his initial comeback venture, Louis will be meeting a man with a fine left hook as well. Sharkey jacks plenty of power in his right despite his lack of reputation as a knocker-out—but it is his left hand that is really educated in ring cunning.

The caller's left is likely to win for him, for Louis will be so busy thinking about his newly-acquired defense for right-hand punches that he will be fair game for Sharkey's left hooks. Johnson feels certain that Sharkey is plenty smart enough to take full advantage of such conditions.

A fair enough argument except for the fact that Sharkey is not, and never has been, a Jack Johnson in the ring. Sharkey may be as good as a boxer among the big fellows but there never has been a heavyweight

Three New Records is Result of Rosalind's Win in Hambletonian

Mrs. White Says She's Happy Over Hambletonian Win

(By The Associated Press)

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—Mrs. Ben White, whose lanky son, "Gibbs," reigns today as the youngest owner of trotting horses ever to win the $40,000 Hambletonian, said he would put his part of the prize money in the bank and go into racing and breeding with his father.

"I'm especially happy on my son's account—it was a big boost which he needed," she said as 21-year-old Gibson, who recently recovered from a long illness, went out on the track yesterday after the famous harness race in this elm-shaded country town.

The winning of the Hambletonian by Gibson White's filly, Rosalind, with his father, Ben White, of Lexington, Ky., the reins—the only filly to pilot a Hambletonian victor twice—was a pleasant family affair best seen from Mrs. White's box.

Mrs. White, a pretty, blue-eyed woman in a light blue dress and a big white hat, smiled but had tears in her eyes when her son made his speech.

"I'm the happiest young man in the world today. I've got a great filly and a great dad."

"He's a pretty fine boy," the owner's grandmother, Mrs. B. D. Gibson of East Aurora, N. Y., said when the tall, thin youth put an arm around his father's shoulders after the race and playfully ruffled his iron gray hair.

After the Whites made a new chapter in Hambletonian history, Mrs. White told how "Gibbs" had been forced by illness to leave Duke University.

He had thought of driving Rosalind—one of his two horses—himself in the Hambletonian, but had turned her over instead "to the best driver he knew—his dad."

While the drivers fought tooth and nail for first place on Good Time Park's mile dirt track their wives, in the boxes, remained good friends in the neighborly gathering of 40,000 trotting horse fans.

Mrs. Sep Plain of Indianapolis, whose husband drove Ed Lasater to third place, and Mrs. White wished each other "good luck" before the race.

Brownie Hanover's second in the first mile and a fourth in the final gave Sheppard's colt second honors. Third money went to Ed Lasater, highly regarded in the pre-race selections, but sixth in the first mile.

"Gibson could have won with that filly, today," said Ben White as he embraced his son. "I never had her out of a pull."

"I've got a great filly and a fine dad," was Gibson's answer.

Corky Stanton First to Sign With Morgenweck for Basketball Team

Fred "Corky" Stanton, who was introduced to American Basketball League fans last season by Frank "Pop" Morgenweck, Kingston manager, has signed to play with the old maestro again next season. The Scheuchetadt Colt put his John Henry on the docket line Wednesday night for Morgen, who made a special trip up-state to deliver Stanton's contract in person.

Morgenweck said this morning that Stanton signed readily, expressing anxiety for the season to open and to get back into a Kingston uniform. "Corky" like this old Colonial City. He considers it his second home. "Give my best to all the fans," Stanton said to Morgenweck, "and tell them that I'm anxious to get going. I wish the season would start next week."

Stanton looked "in the pink" according to Morgen and Reynolds Van Keuren of Van's Shop, 55 North Front street, who accompanied "Pop" on his motor trip to Scheuchetadt. "Corky" met the two and signed his contract after finishing a game of ball in the Twilight League. He said he felt in good condition.

Should Be a Star.

"Corky played fine ball last season," said Morgenweck, "and I expect him to repeat again this coming season. He should be one of our stars and an outstanding youngster in the American League."

Stanton was the first to sign with Kingston for the coming basketball season. "Tip" Koehler, veteran center, who played with the Morgenweckers in the old state league when they bore the name of the Legionnaires, is expected to be back with Kingston again. Morgenweck is anxious to have him back, feeling he'll be a big asset to his club. Koehler, besides being a heady player, is capable of taking a hand at coaching. He has a very even disposition, too, and mixes readily with his teammates, who want to look up to him.

A Valuable Team.

"Tip" has the knack of making suggestions without offending people, which makes him a great asset on a ball club," Morgenweck said. "He is one of the most valuable men I could get. He takes a lot of pep in his mind, because he's always willing to dig in and help. Working man Paul Deane, chairman of a local basketball matter not to 'Pop' as long as long committees.

Up to O'Brien.

Phil Rabinowitz, the young "out" from Passaic, who expressed a desire to play with Kingston as early as last year, near the end of the American League stretch, will go to John Hancock on the bottom of a contract just as soon as he can. John J. O'Brien decided to let him jump from the team to the Kingston roster. The Morgenweck hopes O'Brien will be the nod, and so do a lot of Kingston fans who like "Tip" playing great team next season.

Besides getting down to business regarding the personnel of the team, Morgenweck is looking toward a convenient season for his players to have a conference with the Municipal Auditorium and to have a conference with the Municipal Auditorium and to have a conference with the Municipal Auditorium and to have a conference with the Municipal Auditorium.

In County Granges

Hamilton Grange.
A large number of objects of historical interest relating to the family and the time of Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and one of the framers of the Federal Constitution, has been given recently to Hamilton Grange, former home of the statesman, at No. 257 Convent avenue, Washington Heights, New York city. It was announced by Dr. LeRoy E. Kimball, President of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, which owns the Grange, and is making it a museum of Hamilton and his time. The donors were Alexander Hamilton, great-great-grandson of the statesman, Treasurer of the Society, and nephew of J. P. Morgan, who, with George F. Baker, Jr. enabled the Society to preserve the Grange; Miss Adelaide Milton de Groot, an artist, of New York city, who is a great niece of Sydney Augustus Holly, who married Eliza Hamilton, second daughter of the statesman; and Oscar T. Barck of 745 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, a student of Colonial and Revolutionary history and an authority on Hudson Valley military relics.

Mr. Hamilton's gifts included a pair of duelling pistols which were owned by John Barker Church, brother-in-law of Alexander Hamilton, and which, the Hamilton family believes, were taken to the duelling ground under the Palisades at Weehawken, July 11, 1804, when Hamilton was mortally wounded by Aaron Burr, but were not used, being discarded by lot for another pair which were used in the encounter. Other gifts by Mr. Hamilton were a headed bag made by Mrs. Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton, widow of the statesman, at an advanced age, for a niece; a worsted bag made by Mrs. Hamilton for her sister, Mrs. Cochran, and a piece of a silk dress worn by Mrs. Hamilton at a ball in Washington, D. C. Mr. Hamilton also gave the Society more than forty pictures relating to Hamilton, including photographs and engravings of portraits of the statesman and of historical groups in which he was a part. These pictures make the walls of the rooms in the Grange very interesting for their recollections of Hamilton and his period.

Miss de Groot's gifts included a plaster replica of the portrait bust of Hamilton, by Giuseppe Ceracchi, the original marble of which, made in 1793, is also in the Grange; several knitted and embroidered bags and other objects made by Mrs. Hamilton when past ninety years of age as gifts for relatives and friends; a sandalwood card case, believed to have been owned by Mrs. Hamilton, which contained one of her personal cards, and a card of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, who called on her in Washington; a copy of the oration by Robert C. Winthrop at the laying of the cornerstone of the National Washington Monument in Washington, D. C., July 4, 1848, when Mrs. Hamilton was a guest of honor, and bearing her name; a reprint of two pages of the New York Evening Post, founded by Hamilton, of July 16, 1804, giving the correspondence between Hamilton and Burr which led to their duel; a miniature portrait and lock of hair of Sydney Augustus Holly, son-in-law of Hamilton, and a ring which belonged to Mr. Holly; also a gold watch, according to tradition in the Holly family, belonged to Alexander Hamilton. Miss de Groot also gave to the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society a quilt, with eagles, stars, etc., applied upon it. This was made by her great-aunt Ann de Groot Schenk, whose father was a Lieutenant in the Revolution.

Mr. Barck gave the Society a collection of four medals bearing likenesses of Alexander Hamilton, struck by the United States Treasury, by Hamilton College and by the City of Paterson, N. J., on various anniversaries; many prints and photographs of portraits of the statesman; copies of contemporary newspapers with accounts of the duel with Burr and the funeral of Hamilton; and other related articles of historical interest, which he had gathered over many years.

Other objects in the museum include a marble portrait bust by Ceracchi, bequeathed to the Society by Louisa Lee Schuyler, grand-niece of Alexander Hamilton; a dress worn by Mrs. Hamilton, restored by Mrs. Francis G. Morris, a grand-niece, and Mrs. Swan, a granddaughter; more than twenty books from Hamilton's library in the Grange; four early editions of the Federalist, given by the New York Public Library; eighteen pieces of contemporary furniture loaned by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the curator of the American Wing of which, Joseph Downs, has been helpful in directing suitable objects to Hamilton Grange; an account of the last hours of Hamilton by his pastor, the Rev. John Mitchell Mason, given by Dr. D. Bryson Delavan, Honorary President of the Society; a large mahogany clothes press loaned by Mrs. John A. Dix of New York city; a mahogany four poster bed, with all four posts carved in pineapple design, and a mahogany cradle, loaned by Miss E. Louise Hungerford of Port Washington, L. I.; a Chippendale sideboard loaned by Mrs. Julia Mulford Thrall of New York city; and a pierce-top mahogany table loaned by Miss Linda Cruger of New York city.

One of the upper rooms in Hamilton Grange has been furnished as a Colonial living room with a number of appropriate pieces of furniture, pictures, etc., by Washington Heights Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, through the interest of a former resident, Mrs. Flora Knapp Dickinson, and of the present resident, Mrs. Sara L. Graham.

Others who have aided in increasing the exhibits in the museum have been Harding School, Director of the Museum of the City of New York, who has loaned cases for exhibits; Col. Benjamin F. Castle, member of the Board of Trustees of the Society, who gave a collection of photographs relating to Hamilton and the duel with Burr; the late Mrs. H. Crowell Tattle of 228 Convent avenue, New York city; her father, the Rev. Isaac C. Tattle of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church, who was instrumental in saving the Grange from demolition in 1888; and the late William Harrison of West 144th street, who donated many rare photographs and prints showing the Grange in former periods.

All these objects are on exhibit in Hamilton Grange, which is open week days 10 to 5, Saturdays 10 to 1. Admission free. The Grange is near the corner of 141st street, just north of the College of the City of New York. In front of it is the heroic bronze statue of Alexander Hamilton by William Ordway Partridge, another recent accession from the Crescent Athletic-Hamilton Club of Brooklyn, the statue having been formerly in front of the old Hamilton Club at Remsen and Clinton streets, Brooklyn. The Grange may be reached by the Interborough and Independent subways to the 145th street stations.

Plattekill Clambake.
The annual clambake of Plattekill Grange will be held on Wednesday evening, August 19, with two bakes, one at 5:30 p. m. and one at 7:30 o'clock. Modern and old-fashioned dancing will follow the bake, with music by Grace Davis and her orchestra. Floyd Dietz will call off for the square dances. Tickets are limited so those desiring to attend should secure them at an early date in order not to miss this annual event. Charles Everett is chairman of the ticket committee, assisted by following patrons: Ralph Newkirk, Arthur Newkirk, Ira Cronk, Harold Mills, Leander Minard, Dr. C. A. Merritt, Burton Ward and Herman Cook.

Regular meeting of Plattekill Grange, No. 923, was held at the Grange Hall on Saturday evening. The program, "Health and First Aid," was in charge of Mrs. Wilson Edmunds, with the following numbers:

A talk, "Health and What It Means to the Individual," by Dr. Harold Korn of Gardiner; a reading, "A Boy and his Stomach," by Lizzie Fowler; Mrs. Charles Jenkins read a resume of "The Life of Louis Pasteur"; a poem, "The Auto," Mrs. Wilson Edmunds; an article, "Timely Cautions," read by Mrs. Harold Mills; Charles Everett sang "On the Road to Mandalay," and "Sylvia" as an encore. Mrs. Elmore Lozier accompanied him; a skit, "The Cheerful Caller," was given by Margaret and Mary Carroll; this was followed by a game. Delicious refreshments were furnished by the following hosts and hostesses: Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Van Wyck, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Price, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Birch, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Birch, Clifford and Arthur Birch, Dorothy McCord, D. Edward Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. John Shuber, John and Elese Shuber, Raymond Dylewski, Harold Birch, Halsey Sherwood.

Stone Ridge.
The members of Stone Ridge Grange will meet in regular session Monday, August 17, at 5:30 o'clock. Highland Grange will bring the Fraternity chain and will present the program during the lecturer's hour.

The first link of the Fraternity chain was presented to Stone Ridge Grange in April and has been carried to each Grange in the county until it will be completed at Stone Ridge Monday.

A large attendance is hoped for to greet the Highland group and enjoy a pleasant evening.

GARDINER.
Gardiner, Aug. 13.—James Gaffney, Jr., of New York city, was a caller at the home of his aunts, Mrs. Gussie Miller and Miss Edna Dugan.

Mrs. Stephen Mulligan and daughter, Jane, of New York city, are spending some time with Mrs. Mulligan's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Donahue.

Paul and Vivian Montanye, who have been spending several weeks with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne, returned to their home in Suffern on Thursday. Frank and Carolyn accompanied them for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wells motored to Lake George for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bennett of Kingston were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Donahue.

The property of Mrs. Charles Wells, north of this village, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Seymour, has been sold to Mrs. Mary Johnson of Rutherford, N. J.

American Finish Sixth.
Berlin, Aug. 12 (AP).—America's sixth gymnast finished sixth in a field of eight in Olympic competition today. Germany won the title with 566.50 points. The United States scored 455.45.

Reports received from Granges in many parts of the United States evidence preparations for an unusual number of strange fairs and exhibits this autumn, following a custom that has long been prevalent in rural environment, to put on a tall produce show in the community. The Grange bank most apt to furnish sponsorship. Apparently dozens more fairs will be held this year than have been true for several previous seasons.

EXPECT INCREASE IN MILK PRICE IN STATE

An order increasing the price of milk by one cent a quart was expected after the state milk control board conducted a hearing at Albany. Members were told producers required additional revenue because of higher feed costs as a result of the drought. Left to right: Peter C. Ten Eyck, state commissioner of agriculture and markets; Kenneth F. Fee, division milk control director; and Laurence L. Clough. (Associated Press Photo).

LEFTISTS CHARGE INTO REBEL MACHINE GUN NEST

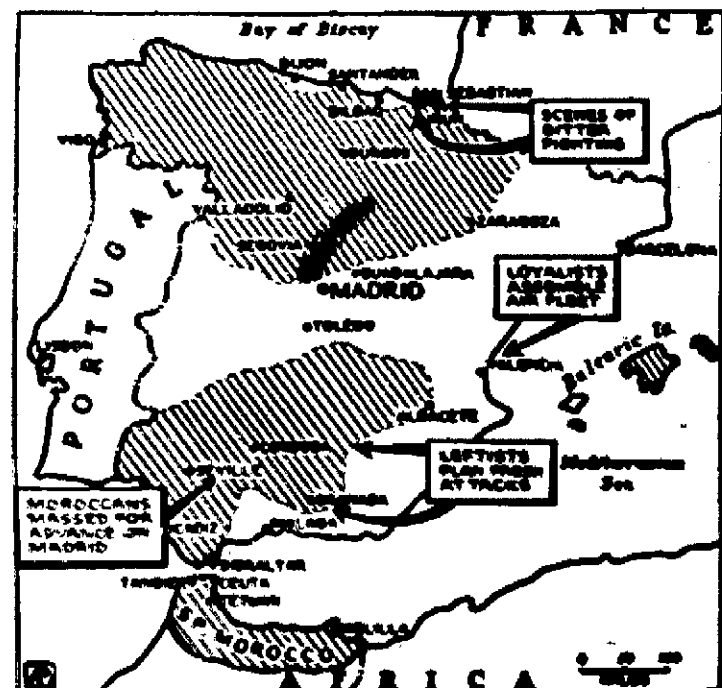

This dramatic action picture taken in the Guadarrama mountains near Somo Sierra shows a band of Loyalists charging up a hill to wipe out a rebel machine gun nest. Casualties were reported high in the mountain region where rebels sought to gain access to Madrid. (Associated Press Photo)

WAR HAS ITS TRAGIC SIDE

In contrast to gayly marching soldiers off to the glories of war is this seriously wounded Loyalist being helped to a band hospital near Somo Sierra by two Red Cross nurses after an engagement with Spanish rebels in the Guadarrama mountains. (Associated Press Photo)

REBELS GAIN IN NORTHERN DRIVE

Capture of the important strategic town of San Sebastian was announced by Fascist newspapers, who also were reported spending on the outskirts of nearby Irun. While Loyalists planned a westward drive in the south toward Cordoba and Granada, Spanish Moroccan troops were reported massed for a drive on Madrid. Rebels still controlled approximately half of Spain, as shown in the shaded portions of this map.

UGES PRICE INCREASE

An immediate increase in the prices of milk by more than 15 percent was urged by Fred Sexauer (above), Dairywomen's League president, when he appeared before the State Milk Control Board. (Associated Press Photo).

Takes Sanctuary In Rome Embassy

Rome, Aug. 13 (AP).—The former Spanish ambassador to Rome, driven out of his embassy by rebel forces, took refuge today at the embassy of the Madrid government to the Holy See.

Ulla De Zulueta, ambassador to the Holy See, and Jose Maria Asada, former representative to Rome, were secluded in one of the enormous tapestried rooms of the old palace which has served as the Spanish embassy in Rome since the seventeenth century.

They denied themselves to callers, saying: "We see no sense in discussing the situation at present."

In the palace courtyard a dozen carabinieri, two police automobile squads and a swarm of plain clothes men protected Zulueta against possible demonstrations of Fascist rebel sympathizers.

COTTEKILL

Cottekill, Aug. 13.—The Ladies Aid Society will hold an ice cream social on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Bert Pine Thursday evening, August 27. There will be homemade ice cream, cake, hot dogs and sodas for sale.

U. S. S. Eliminated

Berlin, Aug. 13 (AP).—Dropping decisions to Germany, 9-7, and Hungary, 14-2, the United States was eliminated in the semi-finals of Olympic team sports competition today. Qualifying for the finals were Italy, Poland, Hungary and Germany.

To Prosecute Negro

Solicitor Zeb V. Nottles (above) will direct prosecution of Martin Moore, negro hotel hall boy, when he goes on trial in Asheville, N. C., for the slaying of Helen Cleveland, New York University co-ed. (Associated Press Photo).

SOLUTION SOUGHT TODAY IN KILLING OF TWO OVERSEERS

Avalon, Miss., Aug. 13 (AP).—Sheriff's officers of two counties sought a solution today of the killing of two farm overseers on the theory it "might have been planned by an organized group."

Sheriff Earle Eguen of Leflore county said W. R. Ingram and W. M. Simpson, Jr., were shot to death yesterday when they went to evict negro tenants from a plantation near Avalon.

Sheriff Eguen, who with his deputies arrested two negroes for the shooting, said "We are working on the angle that some organized group might have been behind this, although as yet, we have nothing definite to go on."

"We do know that the negroes around this section have been organized," he added, without naming a specific group.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Steel issues touched off a burst of stock market enthusiasm today.

Sloss-Sheffield Preferred celebrated the resumption of dividends after a six-year interval by rushing up 8 points or so. Vanadium, a one-time speculative favorite, jumped to life with a 2 point run-up after a protracted period of quiet. Bethlehem, U. S. Steel and Crucible gained fractions to a point or so.

Up fractions to a point or more were General Motors, Schenley, National Distillers, Western Union, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Can, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and Delaware & Hudson.

Poor & Co., Loew's, Kennecott, International Telephone, North American and Adams Express were also in demand.

Cotton lost part of its initial gain. Grains improved. Foreign exchanges were mixed.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., Members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City; branch office, 212 Wall street.

Miss Harrington Told Application Has Been Refused

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—The United States Civil Service Commission has notified Miss Grace Harrington, West Point postmaster, that her application to enter an open competitive examination for the post has been disapproved because she failed to meet specific residential requirements.

Miss Harrington, an "army junior," has held the post for eight years.

Recent reports that she would be replaced brought army officers to her defense with statements that the job at West Point always had been a non-political appointment and since 1847 had been filled by an army orphan.

Miss Harrington, daughter of Lieut. Henry M. Harrington, who lost his life in the Custer massacre, also had been endorsed by the superintendent of the military academy, the Association of Graduates, the Order of Indian Wars, and many residents of the reservation.

The current issue of the Army and Navy Journal called upon President Roosevelt to end the uncertainty "with a scratch of his pen" by reappointing Miss Harrington.

Divine and Three Followers Pay Visit To Whitney Today

Father Divine and three of his followers, the Misses Real, Sweet and Witness called at the Ulster county jail this morning to visit Joseph G. Whitney, chauffeur, who is serving six months for leaving the scene of an accident without reporting.

Whitney was involved in an accident on the Ellenville road near the Kripplbush turnoff, the latter part of July. He was given the jail sentence and fined $50 for sidestepping another car, then driving away, leaving a woman severely injured.

This morning Father Divine encouraged Whitney to keep faith in him. "Remember, I'm always with you in spirit," he said, after the chauffeur expressed disappointment at not being able to attend the Divine parade and rally on Thursday, August 20.

Saw Money Given To A Third Man

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Harry S. Hechheimer, formerly attorney for Harry Bannister, actor and theatrical producer and now one of the three men accused of extorting $1,800 from him, testified in General Sessions Court today he saw one of his fellow defendants give money to the third man on December 15, 1934.

Hechheimer said he was riding in a taxicab with Jerome A. Jacobs, lawyer, and Raymond Derringer, formerly a private detective, when Derringer gave the money to Jacobs.

It was on that day, the indictment charges, that Bannister, fearful lest affidavits giving him an unfavorable character be given his former wife, Ann Harding, screen actress, drew $200 from the bank and gave it to Derringer.

Hechheimer also admitted he got $300 from Bannister early in 1935.

Assistant District Attorney Eugene Flinnigan produced in court before Judge Morris Koenig and a jury Hechheimer's grand jury testimony setting forth he got $300 from Bannister as a loan on the same day that Bannister allegedly gave Derringer $1,800.

The threats to make affidavits were made, the state charges, while Bannister was engaged in a custody battle over his daughter, Jane, who is now with the screen actress in England.

Astor Case Held Up
Los Angeles, Aug. 13 (AP).—Superior Judge Goodwin J. Knight said at court-opening time today he would require "hours" to study a settlement lawyers agreed upon last night in film actress Mary Astor's child custody suit against her ex-husband, Dr. Franklin Thorpe.

William V. Hewitt of Covackie has been appointed assistant instructor printer in the New York State Vocational Institution.

Say! who reads the ads anyway?

There they are, next to the play-by-play dope on the ball game, cutting off the news of So-and-So's engagement party so you have to jump clear to the middle of the next column to finish it. Those ads! You know who runs them, their signatures are on 'em—but who reads 'em anyway? The printer? That's right—but shucks, he's paid to! And the advertiser—sure, he reads them to see if the paper got the prices right. Who else? What's the great American ad-reader look like? Who reads the ads? Let's solve the mystery . . . and see!

This fellow's income is 'way above the average; there are not many like him, we'll admit. Retired from real estate last year, survived the depression nicely, thank you, and will be back from Bar Harbor in September. Gets a kick out of picking up $7 shirts for $2.75 by waiting for the sales. Reads the ads—not every day—but wouldn't think of buying without checking the price and quality against every value in the paper.

Remember her debut party? She'll be back at Smith's in the fall; right now she's pretty busy, what with the little car a Freeman ad helped sell her Dad, the places all the crowd goes to (they say the boys pick them from the Freeman), and the show her club gives every summer. To date she's tracked down material for costumes, arranged for tickets, and has practically closed a deal with a florist . . . all through the Freeman!

She likes to say that the children are grown up and out of the way now . . . but just watch her smile when she sees an ad for print wash frocks . . . size 2 to 6! Keeps a gift list that touches almost every day of the calendar, and half the dates are for children! Entertains a lot, too, and manages to belong to quite a few of the clubs. Proud of her home, and not a bit unwilling to take advantage of a bargain for it when the Freeman backs it up!

Here is a pretty complete little world, of course. Two children, a busy young husband, a new house . . . a little dominion that's pretty hard to crash. But she's made the Freeman a welcome intruder. Where else, she asks, would she find the same help in keeping a not-too-big budget straight . . . how else could she keep the house looking so newly furnished on so little . . . what other source would be so obliging about tipping her off on dozens of sales every day.

Still prefers the comics, but graduated into the ad reading class last year, when he decided he wanted a prep suit like the one his buddy, Charlie, got. Has since found quite a few things he's going to own some day. Sold on one make of bicycle right now, and a certain page of the Freeman has a way of popping up in a prominent place each night about the time that Dad's due home.

Belongs to a number of the city's service clubs, has kept a good business going for a number of years, and has a son who's going into the business some day soon. Makes a hobby of his place up at the lake, and won't let a gun or tackle ad out of his sight till he's read it all the way through. Finds the Freeman ads a good indication of business conditions in the city . . . as well as an effective medium for his own business.

Still in school, but looking forward to the day when he can buy his first car. Just at present quite satisfied with the buys he finds in sporting goods in the Freeman. Interested in what the well dressed young man should wear, and willing to do a little research in the subject. (It's whispered that she lives just a block or two away.) Working the family pretty hard for the trip west that he read about in an ad in the Freeman.

Had a tough time a couple of years ago. But he found a job through the "Skilled Workmen" section in the classifieds, and he and the wife have been reading the ads for one reason or another ever since. First it was the new furniture they needed when they stopped "doubling up" with her folks, then they needed a used car, and right now, since things look better at the plant and there's another nest egg laid away, they're looking for another house.

Pretty shrewd, this youngster! Kind of hated to leave the city and go back to the farm, but he's managed to combine the advantages of both places in just a few short years. First saw the radio he now owns in a Freeman ad. Installed a bathroom after a Freeman ad told him how inexpensive the fixtures would be. Found that he'd save time by trading in the old truck on a 1931 pickup that a Kingston dealer advertised. And he saved money on the repair that he picked out of the wastebad!

Not too many free hours in her life! But the Freeman makes every one of them do double duty, when she starts off on a shopping tour. Clothes have to be smarter, to make up for hours spent in a uniform; cosmetics have to be better, to pass her rigid inspection; everything she buys must get by a sentry-like insistence on perfection. She learned back in her student days that she could rely on Freeman ads, and she's learned since that she can depend on them to save her off-duty time!

It's a date! And that, as any bright young member of Kingston High will tell you, means a trip through the Freeman ads. It may be for some new home . . . for a place to have the white-went cleaned . . . for something really different to wear if it's a dance. But whatever the occasion, it's common enough for a trip through the ad pages, especially when it's almost as much fun as a shopping expedition, and saves the strain on next week's allowance.

"You wouldn't catch me reading the ads . . . just a waste of my valuable time!" Oh, oh! Puts us in a bad spot. Your photo must have gotten in here by mistake. Sorry . . . they wait a minute! . . . that the you're on . . . didn't we see that pattern advertised about a week ago? Uh-huh . . . well, we thought so!

The answer, of course, can be briefly told; everybody reads the ads each day in
